CITY OF LANCASTER. THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1863.

PROMOTED .- Welcarn that our friend Captain Ewing, who lately distinguished himself at Vicksburg, has been promoted to a Lieutenant Colonelcy.

Dr. O. E. Davis Having retired from the service is now permanently located in Lancaster in the practice of his profession.

MEETING OF THE UNION ASSOCIATION. Remember the meeting of the Union Association, at Union Hall, next Saturday night.

BOQUET .- We would state, in order to excite the envy of the Eagle, that we have received another Boquet, and not "From a Democratic Lady," but from a lady who is for the Union "as it ought to be."

Gov. Tod at Somerset. We learn that Gov! Top will address the great mass meeting to be held at THE WOUNDED STANDARD sanitary uses. Weekly meetings were Somerset on the 4th of July, Those of our citizens living along the line of Perry will have an opportunity to celebrate the 4th, and hear our manly, and fearless Govenor.

NEW PAPER.-We have before us the second number of a new weekly paper, published at Columbus, by O. B. Chapman & Co., entitled Tipe UNION LEAGUE. It is an unconditional Union paper and ably edited. We wish the enterprise success. $2,00 a year in advance.

County Central Committee. At a meeting of the Central Committee on last Saturday the following officers were elected: President-James R. PEARSE, of Berr; Secretary, John A. HUNTER; Treasurer, B. F. REINMUND.

The Committee will meet the 3d. Saturday in each month. The next meeting will be July 18th.

Ms Months Men. Our friends L. M. Spitler and Jerry

Montieth are engaged in raising a company of six months men. It will be seen by an address from Gov. Tod, published elsewhere, that whatever force is raised will be credited to the State in the first draft. If the quota of Ohio under the first draft should not be over thirty thousand, and that number can be raised for six months, the State will escape the first draft.

COL. H. B. HUNTER, we regret to learn was severely wounded and taken prisoner in the late fight at Winchester. He is one of the bravest officers in the service, & his many friends here feared, volunteer will be credited to Ohio upon at the first report of the battle, that if either killed or captured. He is now subject to draft should we fall to fill year to have been $253 92, and total onr quota by voluntary enrollment and if drafted, the time they may serve as ter, and we hope notso severely woundvolunteers will be credited them.

expenditures $231 11—leaving a balance on-hand April 17th, of $22 81. ed as at first reported.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH .- The 4th of company officers: July will certainly he here one week of no effort being made to give it the to the call they will be organized as follows: reception and the "distinguished consideration" which its eminent public ser- try vices deserve. Shall we celebrate it in a becoming manner, or shall we only salute it with fire-crackers and drink its health in a mug of beer?

PAPERS FOR THE SOLDIERS.

It is important that the fund assessed boys may have the papers from the beginning of the campaign. We would like to have the sums all in by Saturday. We acknowledge our obligations to Dr. T. W. Evans and Simon BEERY, of Bremen, for their promptness in raising the assessment of their township.

Since writing the above, our friend A. T. Mason, Esq., of Basil, has transmitted the amount assessed for Liberty township. He will please except our thanks. Who comes next?

STILL ANOTHER .- Our friend L. M. SPITLER, has just handed us $20, on the fund assessed Pleasant township. He will except our thanks for his promptness, and our admiration of his unconditional and disinterested Unionism.

ANNUAL REPORT.

This Society was organized in April, 1862. It has consequently been in existence one year, and it is now made tant, and therefore a perfect, blessed my duty to submit to you a statement and permanent Peace. of its operations during that period.

It is proper to remind you that it originated in response to an appeal made "To the Women of Ohio" by the Governor of the State. He feelingly laid before them the imminent wants and sufferings of our soldiers who had been stricken down by sickness and exposures of camp life and the dreadful casualties of battle; and he urgently assistance. We answered that "call" with as much promptness, and with all the ability we could. Our Society was formed, and committees were immedievery article or material suitable for determined upon to prepare and make up garments for the Hospital sick, and this system of work has been persistently continued. Death loves a shining mark!" It often seems Earth's fairest ones are first to pass away; Brightening a moment life's dark, troublous scenes Ere they depart so pale and silently! That from the garland of our cherished hopes, The loveliest buds are earliest doomed to blight! fast as the promised flower in beauty opes, To the sweet fregrance of the morning's light !

He comes to all, the nobly good, the fair, Like angels sent to cheer life's thorny way: The young, the sged, slike fall prostrate there; None can his shafts evade; his footstens stay; For this sweet floweret hearts in sorrow weep, A doating mother's joy, a father's pride! So early called from their embiace to sleep Within the grave's deep gloom in silence laid:

And 'neath those clustering ringlets, deep impressed.

His issuing signot's graven, cold and chill? Hushed to the music of that land-like tone, That many alonely hour has oft beguiled! Closed the dark eye that ever enlandling shone With fond affection's sweet, endearing smile.

So loved and cherished ones, 'mid flowerets bright Befitting emblems / now unconscious laid ;
Is hid forever from your tearful night!
In tober spotless white! an angel now Mingling with scraph bands around the throne! A crown of glory decks her youthful brow, And she triumphant bath the victory won! -

And though you miss the footsteps light and free, That tripped so gally ever at your side : The fond caress, that oft so lovingly Those little arms, around your neck entwined t And morn and eve you wait find list in vam To hear the little prayer beside your knee; Those lips so ley cold, will ne'er again Their wonted "good night" kiss respond to thee

Yet do not weep for her! She is not lost, But only gone a few brief days before, Has landed safely on that blissful shorn. Where no sad parting hour of sorrow's known ! Where troubles cease, and all life's ills are o'er; Where flowers perennial ever fadeless bloom, And friends here severed, meet to part no more! Lancaster, June, 1860.

JOSEPH FRANKLIN, son of Robert and Susannah Shannon, departed this life June 3d, 1863, aged 3 years 7 months and 13 days.

Two years age 1 saw with joy,

The beaming face of little Joc.

I looked upon the bright eyed boy, I loved to gaze upon him not So atout and ruddy, young in years, So quick and manly, yet so young, I hade him farewell through my tears, On him my future hopes were hung.

Two years of strife, of pain and toil, Two years of war's stern dread array, Two years of maddened angry broil. Two years of dreadful civil fray, Have passed and gone, and where is Joe. The bright, the beauteous angel child? He's dead and must such things be so? The thought sets memory running wild.

I've seen the dead on fields of strife. The soil immersed in crimson red, But saw or felt no shock in life As this "Dear little Joe is dead!" He's gone to realms of joyous bliss. Where sorrow's tears are still unknown, But weep not, friends, he sleeps in peace,

And wakes at God's celestial throne Oh blessed Heaven, which can hold One like our darling little Joe, The grave has covered with its mould, heaven's joys dismiss our woe; Dead, dead, but still a gem on high. We turn our thoughts to thee above, Accept, child angel, from the earth, An uncle's tribute, grief and love. J. F. GROPP
